MACHINE WORKS CITY OFFICERS

Kessler tried his best last Tuesday to get a woman to register who has been in the state only six months. She declined to perjure herself to help the Republican paraty.

The result of the registration is not so pleasing to the Republican managers as they would have people believe. It developed yesterday that in many of the districts Republican carriages hauled Democratic voters. It also developed that many voters who have been classed as Republicans will vote against the administration this year. That is why it has been found necessary to keep at work, to put as many rustlers in the field as money and influence can secure.
